

WATER REPORT – November 7, 2017

The attached storage used and remaining values on October 31st may be different for some diversions than was previously reported on the webpage and in earlier water reports.

Natural flow was initially reported as available to fill reservoir priorities in late-September and October of this year. This caused canals that were diverting water out-of-priority to use storage water as the reservoirs were accruing natural flow to their storage volumes. However, Gary Spackman sent a letter to Lyle Swank on October 27, 2017 instructing the Watermaster to distribute natural flow to water rights junior to the reservoirs ahead of accruing natural flow to the previously filled reservoir water right volumes from late-September through December. When the accounting was re-run with these new procedures, some canals showed less storage being diverted in September and October than was previously reported.

All water right priorities are currently being filled and will continue to be filled through December. Priorities are expected to drop to 1921 beginning on January 1st as the primary reservoir rights begin accruing natural flow.

CALENDAR
